Microsoft License Agreement

You are being provided with a copy of a Microsoft Corporation software program that has been licensed by Virginia Tech. Your use of the Software is governed by the following:

1. COPYRIGHT. The Software is owned by Microsoft Corporation or its suppliers and is protected by United States copyright laws international treaty provisions. Therefore, you must treat the Software like any other copyrighted material (e.g., book or musical recording), except that you may either:
 - a. Make one copy of the Software solely for backup or archival purposes,
 - b. Transfer the Software to a single hard disk, provided you keep the original solely for backup or archival purposes

Any other reproduction of the Software is strictly prohibited. You may not copy any Microsoft written materials unless Company has also acquired a license for the reproduction of written materials.

2. OTHER RESTRICTIONS. You must not lease, loan or transfer the Software in any way. You may only use the Software personally on computers owned, leased or used by Virginia Tech, or on a portable or home computer as set forth above. You may not modify, reverse engineer, decompile, or disassemble the Software.
3. VIRGINIA TECH POLICY. It is the policy of Virginia Tech to recognize and adhere to the user restrictions described above. It is also important for all employees with access to the Software to understand that unauthorized copying exposes the individual and Virginia Tech to civil and in some cases criminal penalties. Virginia Tech has no objection to acquiring software you need for your work through proper channels; you should not engage in unauthorized copying under any circumstances. Anyone found violating this policy would be subject to disciplinary action.
4. ELECTRONIC DOCUMENTATION. You may print sections of electronic documentation provided with the software as needed for your use. You are NOT allowed to print a COMPLETE copy of the electronic Microsoft software documentation.
